BETHEL PUBLIC LIBRARY UNDERGOING RENOVATIONS

Through a grant from The Betterment Fund created by the will of William Bingham III, the Bethel Library Association has undertaken several projects that it is hoped will enable the library to better serve its patrons. On the second floor above the stack area there will be a new room which will include study carrels, map files, wide shelving for newspapers, vertical file drawers and a book sale area.

In the main room there will be many changes including a new checkout counter and librarian's office. Other changes will be a new exit door in the stacks and work in the basement. The grant will enable the library to acquire some much needed equipment including film strip and movie projectors.

Dr. Wayne F. Gersen

John Freeman, Principal at the Andover Elementary and Woodstock Elementary Schools, wrote an essay entitled "Rumors" for the February Andover School and Community Newsletter. I asked John if I could reprint the essay in its entirety as a Superintendent's NewsLetter, since the frustrations he recently experienced at Andover Elementary School apply equally to some of the issues that face administrators and Board members as they manage the district. Mr. Freeman's essay follows:

"I recently arrived at school at lunchtime on a Friday to be told that a rumor had been circulating around town regarding an incident of poor behavior and a violation of school district rules which had ac-curred on our playground during school hours. The incident had taken place on the previous Tuesday.

"Some of the students involved in this incident met with me that afternoon. I had finally seen all students and had come to a resolution by the end of the day on Monday—a full week after the infraction had occurred!

"Why did this take so long to resolve? Those students who witnessed the activity chose not to report it to the aide on duty at the time or to their classroom

UPTON TOWN MEETING HELD LAST SATURDAY

Taxpayers in Upton may get some tax relief as a result of conservative action at the annual town meeting held Saturday at the Municipal Building.

A three to four mill decrease in the tax rate may result from the quick action on the 25 article warrant. About 28 voters disposed of the articles in just more than an hour when a total of $12,938.15 was raised. Surplus monies will be applied to reduce spending in a number of accounts.

Stephen Wright was elected to moderate the town meeting. Other officials elected were Christine H. Murphy, who was re-elected town clerk, treasurer and tax collector. Her salary as tax collector was set at $75 a month. Richard J. LeCompte was re-elected to a three-year term as selectman and assessor; and Gilles L. Veins was re-elected as road commissioner.

Incumbent Lucille Langesse did not seek re-election to the school committee and Laurie Bergeron was elected to succeed her for a three-year term.

It was voted to charge 15% annual interest on taxes not paid until after Sept. 30. The town was instructed to buy all officers' bonds. Townspeople approved the use of expense tax funds for snow removal.

A request of $13 for the Oxford County Community Services home day care program was rejected. A total of $1,947 was approved to be taken from Federal Revenue Sharing. Funds will be transferred to the cemetery account for cemetery re-survey $630; town office account for steel filing cabinet for maps, $649; and $874 for the purchase of an electric typewriter. The sum of $6,000 will be taken from General Revenue Surplus to be used for the miscellaneous account $1,000 and $5,000 to reduce taxes.

Amounts approved by voters were as follows: Western Oxford Citizens Council $28; Tri County Mental Health $65; Oxford County Community Services $27; Oxford County Soil and Water Conservation District $50; Maine Publicity Bureau $3.15; Northeast COMBAT $25; town office expense $7,000; cemeteries $500; municipal lighting $1,300; sanitary landfill $1,300; insurance $2,500.

The sum of $160 was approved for the Bethel Ambulance Service, which was proposed for answering a call to a snowmobile accident a week ago.

It was voted to authorize selectmen to carry unexpended balances to the end of the year and to sell by bid, property acquired through tax liens.

Magalloway & Wilson's Mills

Alice Harvey, Corres. — Bill Adams has returned home after spending several days with his daughter, Carol Rich, in Gorham, N. H.

The Ladies met on Tuesday and discussed plans to visit Lisa McGinley in Littleton, N. H.

It rained hard all day Wednesday (March 2), so we lost a lot of snow.

Magalloway held their annual town meeting on Saturday forenoon. The newly elected officers are: Selectman for three years, Fay Vaughn; School Board member for three years, Wesley Russell; Sexton, Fay Vaughn; Assistant Fire Chief, Emery Cameron; Animal Control Officer, Vincent Delolio.

Larry and Ann went to Biddeford to visit their daughter, Barbie Richards. She and her daughter, Cory, returned to Magalloway with them for a few days visit.

WOODSTOCK ELECTS FIRST FEMALE SELECTMAN AT MONDAY SESSION

One hundred and twenty-five Woodstock residents turned out to vote at their annual town meeting Monday evening at the Woodstock Elementary School Gymnasium. Ethel Davis of South Woodstock was elected selectman for a three-year term. She is the first woman in the history of Woodstock to hold this position.

Ken Kemison was elected road commissioner on the fourth ballot. Also seeking the road commissioner post were Edgar Rainey, Ray Curtis and Gordon Dillingham. The final vote was 74 for Kemison and 38 for Rainey.

Twenty minutes was spent in deciding to accept the town report. Newly elected selectman Davis said that the 1982 town report was despicable and of little value. Several typographical errors were noted as present in the report.

The voters accepted the report following comments by Merle Ring that they had no alternative but to accept the report.

The annual secret ballot process, which would be used to elect town officials at the polls, was defeated by a vote of 50-19. Officials will be elected in the future with nominations from the floor at the time of town meeting.

Wages for the road commissioner and equipment operator were increased by 50 cents an hour. The pay of the road crew laborer was increased by 25 cents an hour.

Charles Landers, animal control officer from Oxford, was present, to discuss his cost to cover animal control to Woodstock.

Animal control is presently contracted out to an individual in town. The recommended $2,000 was approved for this account, with no decision as to who would perform the animal control.

Selectman Clifford York read the report of the Department of Environmental Protection on the dump situation. Woodstock's town dump must close in 1983 or the town will be fined. It is presently polluting Barker Brook, garbage is not compacted at the site, the slopes are too steep (only 20% slopes are allowed) and it is also polluting the animal control. The DEP suggests working together with the town of Greenwood to build a transfer station and transfer garbage to Auburn.

Selectman York said a special town meeting will be held in the future after more of the details can be worked out on the costs.

$8,000 was approved in the street light account. Fay Corbin cited a possible saving of $2,500 in this account in the future. Maynard Cushman, Bill Riley and Mrs. Corbin have conducted a survey of all the street lights in Woodstock. They have scheduled a public hearing on March 22 at 7 p. m. in the town hall for the purpose of going over their study.

Other elected town officials are: town clerk, treasurer and tax collector, Pam House; M.S.A.D. director for three years, Paul Hillquist; library trustee, Patricia Thurlow; and fire chief, Larry Whitman.

A total of $184,499.35 was raised at the three hour and 45 minute town meeting.

For students who have an immediate need for a high school credential in seeking employment or military service. For information on GED, contact Cathy Newell at the Adult and Community Education office, 824-2136.

Legal Services for Elderly

It has recently been brought to my attention that there are legal services available to Maine's older citizens. Any Maine resident, 60 years or older can call Legal Services on the telephone or stop in to the office. They will provide advice on any legal problem such as: direct assistance on cases involving loss of home, social security benefits, medical assistance and abuse.

The Legal Services for the Elderly are located at: One Amherst St., Augusta, Me., tel. 289-2565; Edward Dalton, 237 Oxford St., P. O. Box 10480, Portland, Me., 1-800-482-7411.

Abolish County Government

A public hearing was held this week on legislation that would abolish county government and give its functions and duties to state agencies. I do not feel that I can support this idea because it would take away local control and increase the size of state government. Also, knowing how the State turns many duties and responsibilities back to the towns without any way of paying for them, I could not accept anything that could further increase the property tax.

Is Spring really here? The sap buckets are on the maple trees and the weather is beautiful. Is every one ready to clean house? My African violets are all blossomed, so my living room looks cheery. When I brought them in from the porch in November, I gave them some jobe sticks and I over did it, so I lost many leaves, but they are beautiful now.

Joe and Eveline Vatcher went to Portland in the heavy rain March 2 to the ear specialist for Joe's appointment. The doctor was in surgery so we had to wait for two hours. The Community Club meeting was held at our home as we didn't have time to heat the hall after we got home.

The 2nd day of March sure made one think of what is coming this month. But we are still better off than California. It rained hard all day. This is when I am glad I live on a hill.

Tuesday night Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brooks, Richard Felt, Lyndell Farr and I attended Youth Night at Oxford Pomona which was held in Paris Grange Hall. Esther Davis entertained me at a chop suey dinner Monday of this week.

Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Winkley, Donna and Brian took dinner with me and Paul put up a new aerial for me. Sharon Hooven came over after church, bringing her parents Arthur and Sylvia Andrews to visit a while. They took Daphne and Julie home with them. The two girls came over with Brian and Donna in the morning. They had a good time roving around over the crust old back.

Thieves in town again. Why doesn't the judge shut them up instead of suspending their sentence? I can't understand this lawlessness and letting them go out and do more. They could or should be put at hard labor.

The sap season has begun. Lloyd Merrifield has tapped this week. This warm weather isn't conducive to this business. Maybe it will be colder in March later.

I called on Lizzie Russ one day this week. She has made three pair of mittens to sell this winter.

West Paris

Mrs. Marian Chase, Corres.

The West Paris Senior Citizens met for a pot luck lunch and meeting on their regular meeting date. There were 27 present. The salute to the flag and the Lord's Prayer opened the meeting. Records were read and accepted. The Sunshine Committee reported cards sent to all members and a sympathy card to the Doughty family. Clarence Todd was reported as being in Ledgesville. A letter was read from O.C.C.S. concerning "Neighbors Care". Reporter is to send in articles for this paper.

Gladys Billingswood read a letter from Olympia Snowe in response to a letter on the withholding of tax on savings. Letter from Greyhound lines promoting their services was read. President Elizabeth Rowe asked that the group be thinking of trips to be planned later on. Roland Lord was present to explain a housewares party and pass out brochures to prepare for the next meeting. There will be a pot luck dinner. After the meeting Wilbur Libby gave an interesting travelogue on his tour to the World's Fair and other places of interest.

Miss Karen Ruokolainen was the guest of honor at a family supper honoring her 12th birthday at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Chase, on Saturday evening. Also present were Mr. and Mrs. Nestor Ruokolainen, Lisa, Angela and Jennifer; Mr. and Mrs. Rick Chase, Ricky and Chad; Mr. and Mrs. Randy Chase and Becky.

Mrs. Frances Millett and Maude Millett of Lewiston on Mrs. Lila Buck on Saturday. Obbie Buck has returned from Stephens Memorial Hospital.

Howard Ellingwood, John A. cherr, John Farr, have tapped their maple trees for the sap run. Mrs. Liz Rowe was at her home over the week end.

A large group out to church; 57 Girl Scouts and seven leaders. Many of the families came for Girl Scout Sunday. That shows lots of interest.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Fox had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Billings, Susan's folks, of Rumford. Iva Fox had supper with her daughter, Linda, in North Waterford Sunday. Temperatures were in the 50s, crows are back, sounds good, snow going fast.

Town meeting Saturday. The church dinner did not go over big. Guess folks eat different than they did 10-15 years ago—we sometimes would feed 200.

Stephen and Jane Henderson, South Portland, were here at their camp.

THIS WEEK AT THE MOSES MASON HOUSE

Since its founding in 1966, the Bethel Historical Society has depended heavily on recruiting volunteers to carry on its work in preserving and interpreting the local past. In 1974 when the Moses Mason House was acquired and a full-time historical administrator hired it became even more urgent to attract the services of volunteers to serve as guides in the museum, to maintain and organize the collections and to fill the numerous roles in any one of the many special events sponsored each year by the Society. It has been and continues to be an extraordinary record of service since hundreds of people have been and are involved, several of whom were there at the beginning in 1966.

This column will focus on the services from time to time of volunteers, emphasizing their crucial importance to an organization such as the Bethel Historical Society. PHYS. ED. PHUN - Gymnastics is a rapidly growing sport due to such athletes as Nadia Comeneci and Kurt Thomas. Currently gymnastics is being offered in both Telstar Regional High School and the Middle School. Pictured are students from Mrs. Durgin's gymnastics class. may be retrieved at a minute's notice for use by a researcher, student, genealogist or interested member of the public. Jane has recently been joined by Terri Hudson who not only spends one day working with her in the cataloging and registration process but volunteers an additional day to work on a particular aspect of the collection. Currently she is working on the registration and cataloging of the nearly 5,000 slides in the Society's resource file. Since many of them are copies of old photographs they represent an extremely valuable resource since they are constantly being used in programs for school and community groups. A special thanks goes to Jane and Terri for their contribution to a very good cause.

The Oxford Democrat for March 13, 1982 reported that on March 7 of that year 10 inches of snow fell and the snow drifted. Richardson and Son of Bethel were making repairs on their steam mill. Mills were reported not operating due to the low volume of water available. March 4, 1883 was reported to have been the coldest day of the winter. Snow was reported so deep "in the woods the lumberman says that it is very hard getting the horses and ox

EIGHTY ATTEND ANNUAL GREENWOOD TOWN MEETING LAST SATURDAY

About 80 people attended Greenwood's annual town meeting held last Saturday at the Greenwood town hall in Locke Mills.

The largest vote of the day was that for road commissioner, the post being won by Raymond W. Seames who received 61 votes. His opponent, Curt Martin, received 15.

Voters gave 50 cent an hour raise to town officers and a 15 cent hourly wage increase to the dump attendant but reduced the officers' salaries and equipment account, insurance accounts and the Bethel Library account.

On a motion made by Diane Howe, voters reduced the officers' salaries, supplies and miscellaneous account from $25,000 to $20,000. She said that the surplus fund held enough to cover the 50 cent salary increases. Mrs. Howe then spoke in favor of requested office equipment, citing the need of a new filing cabinet. Voters decided to reduce the officers' supplies account by $5,000 and use that amount for office equipment. All other appropriations were approved as recommended.

Officers were elected for 1983 as follows: Selectman for three years, Herbert Dunham; tax collector, Phyllis Coolidge; S.A.D. 44 for three years, Sylvia Cross; chief constable, John Haines; Civil Emergency Preparedness Director, Bonnie Smith; deputy clerk, Denise Swan; road commissioner, Raymond W. Seames. Gregg Arman, road commissioner last year, did not seek re-election.

On the motion of Norman Millett the amount of $14,000 was approved for the insurance premium account. Mr. Millett said that the amount carried over from the previous year would justify a reduction from the $16,000 requested.

No one questioned the road budget which shows a $12,750 increase over 1982. Everyone appeared to be in favor of improved roads, and some agreed that the Greenwood Road was in a deplorable condition.

Selectman Ronnie Smith read a letter from Sup. of Schools Wayne Gersen, stating the S.A.D. 44 Directors' decision to give the Locke Mills school back to the town of Greenwood. After much discussion about what to do with the building it was decided to accept the gift, deferring a decision on the use until a later date. Stephen Seames proposed to use part of the building as a library for the town.

Ronnie Smith explained to the townspeople a meeting between Greenwood and Woodstock selectmen and DEP officials regarding a DEP letter stating that the Greenwood dump must be closed by the end of 1983.

Mr. Smith said a transfer station would cost between $15,000 and $20,000 to build, which could be split between the two towns. Selectman Smith explained that after more research was done there would be a special town meeting to list alternatives and to make appropriations for the necessary funds.

Stephen Seames made a recommendation to selectmen that they count the street lights in working condition and see if they agree with CMP figures. CMP figures show 38 street lights for Greenwood. "Mr. Seames said he just wants to be sure we aren't paying for something we're not getting."

The town voted to appoint a committee to draw up a town charter for Greenwood, since a charter would allow the town to make more of its own rules. Presently the town operates on rules tigating a cemetery association. Members of the committee are Francis Berry, James Sysko and Romeo Baker.

The total amount appropriated this year was $35,500.00, which does not include schools and county tax. Last year's total was $34,831.80.

APPROPRIATION FOR WCBB CAUSES MUCH DISCUSSION AT NEWRY ANNUAL MEETING

The appropriation article which created the most controversy at Monday night's annual meeting in Newry was one involving a request for funds for WCBB-TV, channel 10. The voters turned down the $150 request officials at the public television station had made to the town, then voted down the next two proposals, one which would have sent $75 to WCBB and one which would have appropriated nothing for the station. A figure of $100 was settled upon.

Stephen Wright was re-elected as first selectman, with Roger Hanscom and Lee Swan each re-elected to the second and third selectmen positions, respectively.

June Swan was re-elected as town clerk and treasurer. Mary Tripp was re-elected tax collector. Jack Dennis and Thomas Bartholomew were each named as constables. Marshall Fleet was re-elected as road commissioner, and John Gauthier was named sexton.

It was voted to have the school district director's term expire on March 31, so all newly-elected directors in the district would take office at the same time. Stephen Yates was elected to a three-year term as a school district director.

The appropriations for this year are as follows: snow removal $3,500; maintenance of roads and bridges $4,000; clearing roads $8,000; interest on ministerial and school fund notes, $50.44; town officers' salaries and miscellaneous expenses, $7,000; sanitary landfill, $3,600; fire protection, $2,000; Androscoggin Home Health Care Services, $98; Androscoggin Valley Council of Governments, $300; Tri-County Mental Health Services, $235.

Also: Care of Cemeteries, $300; flags for cemeteries, $20; Bethel Ambulance Service, $1,612; workman's compensation, $1,000; highway equipment fund, $3,000; Bethel Library, $200; Western Maine Older Citizens' Council, $80; Oxford County Soil and Water Conservation District, $50; Oxford County Community Home Day Care Service, $47; and Civil Emergency Preparedness, $100.

Voters rejected a request from the Western Maine Transportation Service for funds.

The town voted to have the cemetery committee continue to investigate forming a cemetery association. Members of the committee are Francis Berry, James Sysko and Romeo Baker.

Gilead

Louise Loring, Corres.

After walking Wild River Saturday I came home to give some thought as to what my introductory topic for this week's column would be. It is hard to describe the beauty of the River, as I saw it Saturday, but it remains one of the most untouched, scenic spots that this area has to offer, whatever the season. At one point headed upstream you can turn around at just the right spot, and see the water weaving and twisting like a broad wide ribbon, curving at almost 90° angle, it slithers out of sight, into a narrow band, and the green bridge on Route 2, blends picturesquely into the scene. The depth perception at this spot is breathtaking and is just what any artist would give his eye teeth to capture authentically upon his canvas. The banks alongside are still lined with symmetrical polar-blue ice cakes, reminding one as to how it may have looked in days of yore, when the ice was harvested and stacked, later to be carted to an ice house and covered with sawdust for future use in the hot sultry days of summer. The sun shone right through to the bottom of the river bed. Looking down into the swiftly flowing water, the rocks and stones were glittering, all golden speckled, so magical it seemed—casting an eerie waving golden aura of light over all. The sound of the rushing water was tremendous, and even Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer—has in all its glory—never staged such a spectacular production. All this beauty is right in our own backyard—tourists come from all over the United States and Canada, drive for miles to enjoy it—yet we as residents are so prone to take this beautiful spot of ours for granted. It is available, free of charge and for many of us, within walking distance. So the next time you have cabin fever—or you feel like griping about your neighbor's lifestyle, and the world news looks so discouraging and menacing to you—drop what you are doing—take a stroll or a drive to Wild River. Observe its beauty and I am willing to wager that, you will return home, refreshed, re-vitalized and thanking the Supreme Maker for allowing you to reside in this little town. (Quite a spring tonic in itself!) There are so many blessings for all of us, if we but only take the time to open our eyes and our hearts in this little community. Is it not essential to our own personal well-being to do so? Thought for the week: Remember the roses—disregard the thorns.

Greenwood City

Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corres.

I often look out my kitchen window in the evening before going to bed to look for a nocturnal visitor. Some times it's a skunk or a coon but so far they haven't arrived. But there had been signs that a relative of the familiar red and gray squirrels had been stopping by at the feeders. Most days the flying squirrels sleep in the hollow of a tree, in woodpecker-cavities or a leaf nest. But this one that visited me came from the leaf filled birdhouse out back. I first saw motion on a bright moon light night from within one of the bird feeders. Taking my flashlight I saw a big eyed, loose skinned little animal that seemed a little nervous but was alert and hungry. The flying membrane, at its side, which when relaxed, appeared as a dark line along its side. When it stretched to look inside the feeder. I could see how the fully-furred membrane was attached and how it could spread when the squirrel stretched its leg. Its little beady eyes under the flashlight's gleam, looked a deep orange-red. Its most interesting feature is the flying membrane, or maybe I should say a gliding membrane.

Over the years I have happened upon them and seen them launch themselves from a tree extending all four legs out to the sides until the loose attached skin at the wrists and ankles is stretched flat. Then it can glide, turn, and land on the trunk of another tree. Just before landing its sloop upward, its controlled at the last minute before grasping the tree with all four feet. With no hesitation it scurries around to the back of the trunk, and dashes upward for another take off.

Although a nocturnal animal, it at times is seen in the day time. At anytime it is an interesting little creature and I hope it comes again to feast on my seeds.

Thursday and Friday better than I did. It can always seem to keep me awake at night. Went to town Friday to do a few errands and on Saturday Russell needed to have a little tinkering done on his car so went to town for a short while.

Saturday evening we went out to Bethel for supper.

Sunday was another beautiful day but felt lazy. Russell got in a little more wood from the barn and I stuck around the yard a little for exercise. It was a good day for it as it was so Spring like.

Russell puts cracked corn in a box out back of the house for the birds and squirrels and I know you'll find it hard to believe as we did, but there was a small swarm of hornets in the box on the corn. Don't know what they were getting but there they were. We were very surprised to see them especially at this time of year. A first for us to see hornets this early.

Had a short visit from a friend, Diane Thurston and son Sunday afternoon; also a visit from our niece Darnita Yates and daughter Eva. The dog enjoys their visits too, as she loves children.

It seems good to have it so warm. When the temperature gets near 50° in March that's quite something. I enjoyed it and hope everyone else did as well.

MRS. KATHARINE B. WIGHT

Mrs. Katharine Barnett Wight, of Errol, N. H., died Saturday, March 5, 1983, at the Androscoggin Valley Hospital in Berlin, following a short illness.

She was born in Upton, Maine, on Feb. 7, 1917, the daughter of Banaman and Lila McLeod Barnett. She resided in Errol most of her life. She was employed at the Tillotson Rubber Company and was a member of the Congregational Church in Upton. Her husband, George Wight, died in 1970.

She is survived by seven sons, Richard Enman of Temple City, Calif., Lloyd Enman and Malcolm Enman of East Hartford, Conn., Larry Enman, George, and Jerry Wight, all of Errol, and Norman Enman of Lisbon, N. AIRPORT SERVICES TO COMMUNITY NOTED BY BETHEL AVIATORS GROUP

How does an airport serve a community like Bethel? Flying has become a major means of transportation and affords a wide variety of services which are not always evident or recognized.

Agricultural spraying and dusting have been used yearly for local truck farms and apple producers. Lumbermen find that flying over woodlots aids in surveying property lines and checking tree growth. Also forest fire control and budworm spraying and assessment can best be done by air. In addition the warden service uses planes for wildlife observation and law enforcement on lakes and remote areas throughout the state. Lost and/or injured persons are many times discovered with the use of aircraft. Thus farmers, lumbermen, the National Forest Service and the State Warden Service find that aircraft are beneficial in developing and protecting crops, citizens, wildlife and resources.

Cases of severe injury or health problems that require rapid transport to larger medical facilities often are flown. Businesses use planes for rapid delivery of parts and machinery as well as personnel. Tourism to ski areas, schools, inns and vacation areas is enhanced by air travel. Aircraft owned by local businesses and individuals when serviced and kept at the airport produce income for the community. These planes can and have provided the above mentioned services to the community.

'CAREER EXPLORATION WEEK' PLANNED AT TELSTAR REGIONAL HIGH SCHOOL

The Career Education Team in conjunction with the Guidance Department at Telstar Regional High School is planning its third "Career Exploration Week" program for its junior and senior students. This program provides an opportunity for over 160 students to learn about careers. Therefore, each student will be advised to design a career study project requiring the individual to "job shadow" an occupation/career. Students will be excused from school for four days to job shadow during the week of April 11.

The projects undertaken last year ranged from radio broadcasting at a radio station, law enforcement with the Oxford County Sheriff's Dept., to exploring aviation/airline services at the Portland International Jetport. Thus, career project sites are of variety in nature and location. All projects will be thoroughly structured and supervised by Telstar Regional High School faculty in addition to on-site supervision.

Inquiries or questions regarding this "Career Exploration Week" program are welcome and can be addressed to Dan Hart, Guidance Director at Telstar Regional High School.

teachers. Instead, they told their parents about it. These parents, in turn, questioned other parents, and on and on until Friday—three days later—when word of the problem indirectly returned to school, being heard by the husband of a staff member at a store in town.

"The school does not, and can not, operate successfully if it is an entity unto itself — apart and separate from our community. It is a vital part of this community and without the support and help of parents and other community members, the school's efforts are diminished."

"If your child, or another adult, gives you some strange or disturbing report about school, please check it out with the school office as soon as possible. It is only with such support and open communication that our school can reach its full potential in serving the children and the community."

I hope that if you hear rumors, or witness incidents involving S.A.D. 44 you will share them with the appropriate administrators in the district, so we can work together to improve the schools in S.A.D. 44 for all people in the district.

CARD OF THANKS

A special "Thank You" to my dear family and friends whose prayers, phone calls, flowers, cards and special thoughtfulness made my hospital stay more pleasant. And especially to those who looked after my family while I was gone and since my return home. Darlene, Mary, Kathy-Jo and Cheryl, I love you, and Sonny and Mom, who were there when I came back to my room. The love of Family and Friends cannot be measured. The flowers and cards are beautiful. To Rev. Rust for your prayers and to the Staff at Stephens Memorial Hospital, my doctors and nurses were just the greatest. Thanks again.

The favorite snacks this week were elephant trunks (large bread sticks made from whole wheat flour and wheat germ). Everyone helped to make them as long as the trunk which was pulled by the crocodile!
